Active, Intelligent Reporting Made Easy

With a single click, access the information to better manage cases, outside counsel, in-house personnel, department finances and senior management expectations. Use intuitive filters, ad hoc report writing, and multiple drill paths to generate reports by multiple data segments that reflect your organization's structure. Create a reports library and publish reports to users as point in time "snapshots" or as dynamic reports that update at the click of a button. And post reports directly to the desktops of law and claims department leaders.

Reduce costs and improve decision-making across your department with the most advanced analysis and reporting tools in the legal and claims world.

Translate raw numbers into meaningful metrics about your department and outside counsel. And take advantage of active, real time contextual reports configured to your audience—with the most flexible templates, filtering, charting and snapshot tools for legal professionals.

Give every level of user the analysis and reports they need, when they need them, to make the most intelligent, informed decisions. Our reporting solution gives you the power to optimize your department's performance through better financial management, stronger law firm engagement decisions, and more effective strategic planning.

DEMONSTRATE YOUR DEPARTMENT'S VALUE

Manage expenses and provide answers about your department's performance—with data-rich reports on everything from case updates and spending trends to business forecasts. Better align your department and outside counsel with core business strategies of the organization. Gain more context, history and comparative data to paint a truer picture of your department's performance and financial value.

ACTIVE REPORTING LEADS TO IMPROVED DECISION-MAKING

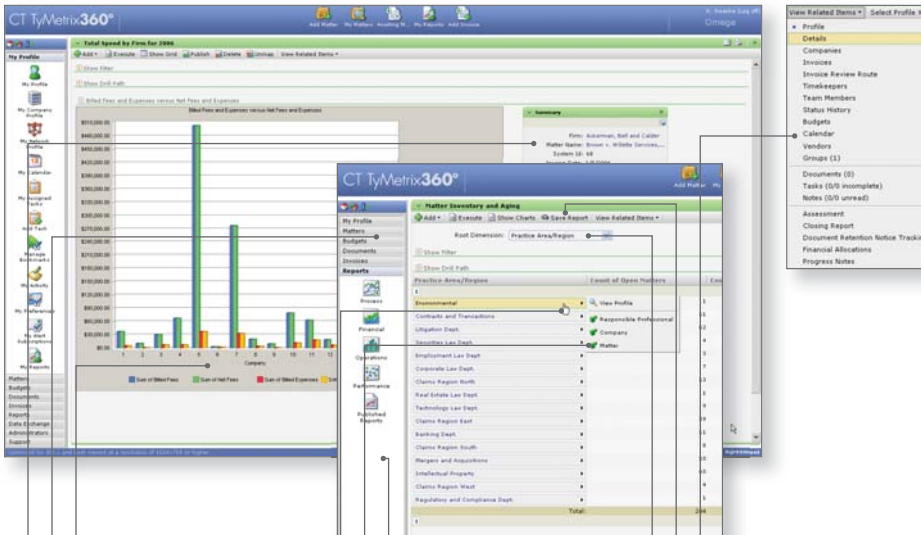

Our reporting engine's "active design" lets you drill down and through the layers in every report to reveal the cause-and-effect relationship of your data. Active, contextual matter and e-billing reports inform the intelligence and relevance of the entire solution—growing in richness and value as you aggregate data. The result: by illuminating what you need to know and share, active reporting gives you the clarity to make better decisions—and the control to get better results.

PUT OUR EXPERTISE TO WORK

Once your system is in place, our dedicated Decision Support Services team can provide ongoing support and consultative services to help you get the most out of it. Count on them to help identify areas for additional cost savings, benchmarks, disposition strategies, and reporting metrics.

POWERFUL REPORTING MODULE

Utilize the industry's most powerful analysis and reporting tools to demonstrate your department's value. CT TyMetrix 360° provides the industry's most advanced reporting capabilities, letting you create and deliver meaningful reports on virtually every field and datapoint captured.

Graphical Display

Multiple display options include pie charts and bar graphs. Export reports in various formats to satisfy internal reporting requirements.

Flexible Capture Leads to Flexible Reporting

Leverage flexible dynamic fields editor to capture and report on virtually any field.

Contextual Business Intelligence

Dashboards for invoices, matters, timekeepers and companies provide contextual reporting. A reporting layer at the point of decision provides ready access to this information where it can be most impactful.

On Demand Reports

Create, schedule and "publish" reports to the user-configured Home page. A "My Reports" section provides immediate access to frequently and regularly issued reports.

Links to Source Information

Examine underlying matters or invoices to scrutinize the report and support conclusions.

Drill Down Capabilities

All reports include additional navigation options to further manipulate report information. Answer follow up questions by using dimensions and drill paths for deeper segmentation, and filtering to limit by date range and status.

Process Driven Management Reports

Every field, whether associated with a matter, vendor or invoice and other information collected through the use of dynamic fields, alerts or tasks is reportable. Core matter management workflow information gathered through the completion of case assessments, budgets, closing reports, counsel scorecards and more is also fed to the reporting engine.

Snapshot and Refresh

Save reports as a snapshot or as a query that can be refreshed. Reveal cause and effect relationships in your data and identify trends.

Report Templates

Ad hoc configuration of report parameters or "measures" provide fast access to management information.
